PREFACE

The Criminal Statistics of Canada are collected, compiled and published under authority of the Act respecting the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, 8-9 George V, Chapter 43.

The introductory abstract of the present report has been written by Mr. Reginald E. Watts, Statistician. The compilation of the tables was performed by Messrs A. Bourret and C. A. Summers. Owing to a wider classification of occupations being adopted to compare with that of the Census, a reconstruction of tables relating to that part of the work was found necessary. A new table giving Police Statistics is also presented, and the tables relating to juvenile crime have been transferred from the abstract to the main body of the report.

R. H. COATS,
Dominion Statistician.

CRIMINAL STATISTICS OF CANADA, 1920

INTRODUCTION.

The criminal statistics of Canada are divided as in previous years into two main sections, viz., Indictable Offences and Non-indictable Offences. The former constitute the more serious offences properly classified as crimes, whereas the latter are minor offences, for the greater part comprising infringements of municipal or provincial acts or by-laws.

The returns for the year ended September 30, 1920, give a total for the two divisions of 162,708 convictions, as against 130,019 for 1919, being an increase of 25.14 per cent. The increase in 1919 over 1918 was but 5.48 per cent. The increase for 1920 is shown to be almost entirely in the non-indictable offences or summary convictions. The convictions in this division increased from 111,623 in 1919 to 144,265 in 1920, or 29·2 per cent. The increase of 1919 over 1918 for these offences was but 5·4 per cent with respect to criminal cases proper or indictable offences; the convictions stand 17,370 for 1918, 18,396 for 1919 and 18,443 for 1920. The increase of 1919 over 1918 was 5·91 per cent; in 1920 it was but 0·25 per cent. This is the lowest ratio of increase since 1917, in which year the figure was 15,559, the lowest since 1911. Thus it is seen that, although the figures for crime in general have been increasing since the war, serious crime at least has received a check.

It is also noted that juvenile crime is on the downward trend. In 1919 it was shown that 20·3 per cent of the total convictions of indictable offences was of children under 16 years of age, which figure is a decrease of 2·3 per cent from that of the previous year. In 1920 the percentage of juvenile crime to the total had dropped to 18·19. Previous to 1919 for a period of fourteen years it had been gradually rising.

With regard to juvenile crime, a computation of ratios of population and convictions by ages and sexes is illustrative. The ratios of population are computed from the 1911 Census—the latest figures available—but it may be assumed that such ratios would not change materially. As children under seven years of age do not come under this category they are eliminated from these calculations.

According to the census of ages, boys from 7 years to 15 years, inclusive, formed 10.93 per cent of the total population of over 6 years of age. The convictions of boys of the same age in 1920 was 17·53 per cent of the total convictions. This shows a disproportionate excess of crime. Boys 16 years to 20 years, inclusive, constituted 5·96 per cent of the population, and the convictions recorded constituted 16·65 per cent of the total, a greater excess than in the younger group.

The following table shows the ratios of population and convictions of indictable offences by groups of ages and sexes:

Age groups	Per cent of the total population over 6 years	Per cent of convictions for indictable offences to total	Ratio for juveniles had it been the same as that of the adults
MALES
7 to 15 inclusive	10·93	17·53	16·84
16 to 20 inclusive	5·96	16·65	9·18
Over 20	36·67	56·49
FEMALES
7 to 15 inclusive	10·64	0·66	0·16
16 to 20 inclusive	5·52	1·18	0·29
Over 20	30·28	7·49
	100·00	100·00

The total number of charges of indictable offences in 1920 was 23,213, compared with 23,021 in 1919. The convictions as previously stated were 18,443 for 1920 and 18,396 for 1919. This shows percentages of convictions of 79·5 and 79·9 for the respective years. The percentage of convictions to total prosecutions has been increasing almost steadily for a period of years, having risen from 66 per cent in 1891 to almost 80 per cent in 1920, with a corresponding decrease in the percentage of acquittals. The average percentages of convictions and acquittals in five year periods for the past thirty years is shown below:—

Period	Average number		Percentage
	Convictions	Acquittals	Convictions	Acquittals
1891–1895	23,376	10,753	68·5	31·5
1896–1900	28,193	11,971	70·2	29·8
1901–1905	32,197	15,107	68·1	31·9
1906–1910	51,685	17,115	75·1	24·9
1911–1915	88,577	27,015	76·6	23·4
1916–1920	88,927	22,449	79·8	20·2

These figures show a gradual increase in the proportion of convictions. At the same time the gradation of punishment for crime has been toward less severity. The ratio of fines and suspended sentences has steadily increased, and that of sentences to terms of imprisonment has decreased. In 1891 the percentage of fines imposed to total convictions of indictable offences was 14·4; in 1920 it increased to 30·0; suspended sentences increased from 17 per cent to 35·7 per cent. Gaol sentences decreased from 53 per cent to 25 per cent. Penitentiary terms of from two to five years decreased from 7·1 per cent to 1·4 per cent during the period.

In view of the fact that crime has increased during the same period it is of interest to further examine the subject. The following tables show by classes of crime the ratios of the different sentences imposed in averages of five year periods for thirty years. The figures given are the percentages to the total of each class.

These tables show clearly the change in the nature of judgments passed during the period. Penitentiary terms of five years and over have decreased 33⅓ per cent in class I, and in the other classes from 72 per cent in class II, to nearly 90 per cent in class IV. Penitentiary terms of two years and under five have not decreased so rapidly. In class I there was an increase of 5·4 per cent in these terms but in all the other classes there were decreases from 33·2 per cent in class V to 79·3 per cent in class IV. Gaol terms of from one to two years decreased less rapidly than did the penitentiary terms, but the terms of under one year show decreases of from 25 per cent in class V to 74 per cent in class IV. Fines increased in every class. The greatest change is shown in class V which shows a gain of 700 per cent in the number of fines. The greatest increase in suspended sentences is shown in class II where the gain was 280 per cent.

The greatest diminution in terms of imprisonment in favour of fines and suspended sentences is in class IV. The next in order are classes II and VI. Class I shows a more even ratio than any other.

The following table showing the ratios of recidivists is to be studied in connection with the preceeding tables:—

RATIOS OF FIRST, SECOND, THIRD OR MORE TIME CRIMINALS IN AVERAGES OF FIVE-YEAR PERIODS 1891–1920.

1911–1915	87·3	7·3	5·4
1916–1920	83·7	8·5	7·8

Notwithstanding the increase in the convictions for crime it would seem from this table that the habitual criminal has not increased to any great extent. The two five year periods from 1895 to 1905 show the greatest percentage of second and third time criminals. After a decided drop they are again increasing.

Referring again to the punishment of crime; with respect to murder the percentage of convictions to the total number of murders committed is comparatively small. During the thirty year period under consideration the number of convictions was but 36·5 per cent of the total number of cases tried, and of those condemned to death but 57 per cent were executed. The remaining 43 per cent had their death sentences commuted to life imprisonment, and 38 per cent of those had their life terms reduced and some were ultimately pardoned.

The following table shows the average number of murders committed, convictions and executions, with ratios in five year periods, 1891-1920.

DIVISION I—INDICTABLE OFFENCES.

These are divided into six classes: class I, offences against the person; class II, offences against property with violence; class III, offences against property without violence; class IV, malicious offences against property; class V, forgery and other offences against the currency; class VI, other offences not included in the preceding classes.

Procedure.

The indictable offences are dealt with before the supreme courts of the provinces with a jury, before a judge without the intervention of a jury (under the Act respecting speedy trials) and before police and other magistrates by virtue of the Summary Trials Act.

The number of indictable offences dealt with in 1920 was 23,213, being 21,089 males and 2,124 females, showing a ratio of 10 males to 1 female. The number of convictions was 18,443 and of acquittals 4,770. The latter figures include 15 cases in which the jury disagreed, 10 cases of no bill, and 10 cases in which proceedings were stayed (nolle prosequi). The number tried by jury was 1,463, being 1,395 males and 68 females; by judge without a jury 4,272, being 4,019 males and 253 females, by police and other magistrates 17,478, being 15,675 males and 1,803 females.

The table below shows the number of trials since 1900 by the three processes and the percentage of the whole tried by each court, also the percentage of convictions secured to the total number tried by each court.

The foregoing statement shows that jury trials have increased from 5·0 per cent in 1919 to 6·3 per cent in 1920. This is the highest percentage shown since 1911, when it was 7·0; that of the speedy trials and summary trials have varied but little. In jury trials and summary trials the percentages of convictions secured have increased, but the percentage in the speedy trials during the period has diminished. The juries have not secured so high a ratio of convictions as have the other two courts.

The following table gives the number of charges, convictions and acquittals, and percentages of convictions to charges by provinces for 1919-1920:—

Provinces	1919				1920

Canada	23,021	18,396	4,625	79·91	23,213	18,443	4,770	79·45

The order in which the provinces stand with respect to the ratio of convictions to charges is thus: New Brunswick, the highest, with 87·85 per cent; Ontario, Saskatchewan and Manitoba with convictions ranging from 82·05 to 80·57 per cent; Quebec, Yukon, Nova Scotia, Alberta and British Columbia ranging from 77·77 to 71·76 per cent; Prince Edward Island, which province in 1919 showed 96·88 per cent of convictions, in 1920 secured but 65·48 per cent.

The geographical distribution of crime is shown in ratio in the following table:—

The highest rate of crime for 1920 is seen to be in Ontario with 294 per 100,000 population. The order of the other provinces is: Manitoba, British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Yukon and Prince Edward Island, the last with but 20 per 100,000.

With reference to place of residence the returns show that 87·7 per cent of those convicted of indictable offences lived in cities and towns, 11·5 per cent in rural districts, and that 0·8 per cent were not given. According to the 1911 Census the urban population for Canada was just under 42 per cent. The figures stand: convictions for 1920, urban 16,178, rural 2,111, not given 154; for 1919, urban 16,305, rural 2,051, not given 40.

The classification of occupations in this report has been changed to correspond with that used in the Census and other statistical fields. The change, however, will not disturb comparability with former years. The classes, agricultural, lumbering, fishing and mining of this report were formerly all under the heading of agricultural. The former Industrial is now styled manufacturing, transportation and trade were formerly the commercial class. The other three classes, domestic and personal service, professional and labourers are not changed.

The following table illustrates the relative standing of the two classifications of persons in each for 1919-1920:—

By sexes the returns show an increase of convicted males of from 16,161 in 1919 to 16,722 in 1920, or 3·4 per cent, and of females a decrease of from 2,235 in 1919 to 1,721 in 1920, or 23·0 per cent.

The following table shows convictions of females by provinces and percentages to total convictions for 1919-1920:—

The ratios of persons convicted for the first, second and third or more times in 1920 were as follows: 81·9, 9·0, 9·1 per cent respectively of the total convictions. The figures for 1919 were 82·2, 8·9 and 8·9 respectively.

The conjugal condition of persons convicted of indictable offences in percentages to total convictions for the past five years is as follows:—

The principle differences between the figures for the two years are: In class I, murder decreased and manslaughter increased, shooting, stabbing and wounding and assault on females increased considerably; in class II, burglaries show a substantial decrease; in class III, the crimes under the several headings of theft show a decrease, whereas fraud, false pretences and receiving stolen goods increased: class IV, malicious injury to property, decreased; class, V increased; class VI, criminal negligence, driving automobile while drunk and intimidation shown in 1920 were included under various other misdemeanours previously, and illicit stills were included in revenue laws. In the main this class increased with respect to charges but convictions decreased.

Juvenile Delinquency—Indictable Offences.

Table VIII of the report shows the number of juvenile offenders by crimes and provinces for 1920. The total number dealt with was 3,624 of which 3,355 were convictions and 269 acquittals. Of these, 2,458 were disposed of before the juvenile courts as follows: Montreal, 732; Toronto, 1,025; Winnipeg, 282; Vancouver, 145; Ottawa, 61; Halifax, 30; Victoria, 23; Brandon, 60. The remaining 1,166 were returned as having been dealt with in the ordinary police courts.

In addition to the above the juvenile courts convicted 2,953 juveniles of non-indictable offences, as shown by table IX, which may be consulted for details.

PART II—SUMMARY CONVICTIONS.

The second division of offences consists of cases disposed of by police magistrates or other justices of the peace by virtue of the Summary Conviction's Act, and includes offences against the various provincial and municipal acts and by-laws, breaches of the peace, common assaults, offences against liquor laws, drunkenness and all other minor offences.

The number of convictions reported for 1920 was 144,265, as against 111,623 for 1919 and 105,899 for 1918. The increase of 1920 over 1919 was 29·2 per cent; of 1919 over 1918 the increase was 5·4 per cent. By sexes, the convictions for 1920 show 135,873 males and 8,392 females. The percentages of females for the three years 1918-19 and 1920 were 7·37, 7·43 and 5·82, respectively. The diminution in the number of females in 1920 is notable, as for several years it had been increasing.

The following table gives the number of summary convictions by provinces in 1920 compared with 1919:—

Provinces	1919			1920			Percentage of Increase or Decrease

With respect to totals of males there are increases in every province. Females increased in Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta, British Columbia and Yukon, and decreased in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Saskatchewan.

Grouped by offences the figures are:—

Offences	Number		Variation
	1919	1920
Assault and other offences against the person	5,116	5,334	+ 218
Trespass and other offences against property	3,070	2,486	− 584

Miscellaneous minor offences	15,241	15,265	+ 24
Total	111,623	144,265	+32,642

Drunkenness, Etc.

The notable changes shown in the above table are the large increases in breaches of municipal by-laws, liquor acts and drunkenness. The decrease in militia acts is due to the cessation of military operations. The increase in breaches of municipal by-laws which is almost 50 per cent is principally in cases relating to highway offences of various kinds. The increase in offences relating to the temperance legislation is 39 per cent over 1919, and convictions for drunkenness have increased 64 per cent, since the previous year. The number of convictions for drunkenness was 39,769 in 1920, compared with 24,217 in 1919, and for breach of liquor laws, 10,247 in 1920, compared with 7,383 in 1919. Previous to 1919, there had been for some years a continuous decline in convictions for drunkenness, from 1913, when the number of convictions for this crime was 60,975 to 1918, when the number was 21,026. It should be pointed out, in interpreting statistics of this character, that they should be read in connection not only with the trend of population, but with the so-called "secular" trend of crime in general. Convictions for crime in general, as noted elsewhere, showed a marked decline during the earlier years of the war, but since its conclusion have risen again somewhat sharply. The enactment of new legislation and any difference in the rigour with which legislation is enforced must also be taken into account.

The number of persons fined for drunkenness in 1920 was 36,009, and the fines paid amounted to $315,099, unpaid fines totalling $65,294. The figures for 1919 were 21,975 persons fined, $186,176 fines paid and $39,763 unpaid.

For breaches of prohibition and other liquor regulations the number of persons fined in 1920 was 9,674, who paid $1,442,754 in fines and refused to pay $244,676. The figures for 1919 were 7,079 persons, who were fined $930,947 in paid fines and $247,995 in unpaid. These figures do not include actions taken against illicit stills, which are indictable offences.

Comparative tables of summary convictions by provinces are given on pages 239 to 249 and retrospective tables of all classes of offences are given on pages 295 to 300.

In 1913 the tables giving the convictions and acquittals of the different courts was discontinued. To supply these details from that year onward table VII was prepared, and in future these details will be presented in the old form.

Pardons and Commutations.

The number of cases in which the prerogative of mercy was exercised in 1920 was 1,217, a decrease of 236 from 1919. Of those affected 751 were released under ticket of leave with various conditions attached, 352 without ticket of leave, but also with conditions, 114 were given unconditional pardon and in 67 cases fines were remitted or reduced. Unconditional pardon was also granted to 24 ticket of leave men. Of the prisoners released 414 were from penitentiaries, 255 from reformatories and 480 from common gaols. Twelve death sentences were commuted during the year.

Police Statistics

Tables respecting police statistics are for the first time presented in this report, the object being to show the total number of offences "known to the police." Hitherto the tables in the report of Criminal Statistics have been confined, to cases dealt with in the courts. A great number of offences, however, are committed for which the offenders are not discovered and are not brought to justice. It is clear that the actual state of criminality is not shown by the number of cases prosecuted. With this purpose in view and to obtain other data relative to police activities one hundred and four cities and towns of over 4,000 population (1911 Census) were asked to make returns. With some difficulty satisfactory records were obtained from eighty-eight places, though in some instances for the want of complete records estimates were accepted. The following towns failed to make returns: New Glasgow, North Sydney and Sydney Mines, in Nova Scotia; Chatham in New Brunswick; Levis, Shawinigan Falls, and Sorel in Quebec, and Cobourg, Goderich, Hawkesbury, Niagara Falls, North Bay, Pembroke, Port Hope, St. Thomas and Waterloo in Ontario.

As the calendar year is that which the police in most cases use in making their reports the tables given in connection with this subject differ by a three-months' period from those of the other part of the report.

The number of police on the forces of the eighty-eight places reporting was 3,614. The number of offences reported to, or known to the police in 1920, was 183,126; 151,468 persons were arrested or summoned to stand trial, leaving 31,658 offenders undiscovered. The number of thefts known to have been committed was 22,820, whereas the number of charges for thefts given in table I of the report total 10,575 and the convictions 8,678. There were 5,655 burglaries, house and shop breaking committed, the charges and convictions being 2,317 and 2,073 respectively. Highway robberies to the number of 663 were reported, yet the number of all cases of robbery dealt with in the courts was but 332, with 237 convictions.

The number of automobiles reported stolen was 3,682, valued at $4,762,043. Of these the police recovered 3,534, valued at $4,535,458, leaving 148 not recovered. The number of bicycles reported stolen was 4,814; those recovered amounted to 2,624. In addition the police found 2,325 bicycles that were not reported stolen and found claimants for 2,151 of these. The value of other articles reported stolen was $2,325,755, and of this $1,336,027 was recovered.

Photographs of prisoners were taken to the number of 5,217. Finger-prints taken numbered 12,499, and 1,724 identifications were established.

Street accidents reported numbered 13,766.

Cases of doors of premises carelessly left unlocked numbered 10,509.

During the year the police gave shelter to 22,927 persons and recovered 5,212 children that had strayed away.

New Judicial Districts.

The judicial district of Athabaska in Alberta was disestablished and the sub-judicial district of Peace River was made a judicial district on May 1, 1920. The judicial district of Edmonton includes all that portion of the former district of Athabaska not comprising the Peace River district.

The judicial district of Acadia established September 15, 1919, is taken from Calgary district and a portion of the sub-district of Bassano.

In Saskatchewan there are three new judicial districts: Cypress, which is part of Swift Current; Gravelbourg, taken from Moose Jaw and Weyburn; and Melfort, which was formerly part of Prince Albert district. No cases were reported in 1920 for Melfort, it being created late in the year.

PRÉFACE

La statistique de la criminalité est colligée, compilée et publiée en vertu des dispositions de la loi constituant le Bureau Fédéral de la Statistique, 8-9 George V, chapitre 43.

Le précis introductif du présent rapport a été rédigé par M. Reginald E. Watts, statisticien, et les tableaux compilés par MM. A. Bourret et C. A. Summers. La classification des métiers et professions des condamnés ayant été étendue de manière à coïncider avec celle adoptée pour les opérations du recensement, les tableaux des occupations ont dû être refondus. On trouvera dans ce rapport un tableau nouveau relatif aux statistiques de la police; de plus, les tableaux consacrés à la criminalité juvénile, qui figuraient autrefois dans l'introduction, ont été, dans la présente édition, incorporés au rapport.

STATISTIQUE DE LA CRIMINALITÉ AU CANADA, 1920.

INTRODUCTION.

Comme les années précédentes, la statistique de la criminalité au Canada est divisée en deux sections principales, savoir: les crimes et délits graves (c'est-à-dire toutes les infractions à la loi ressortissant de la cour d'assises) et les menus délits et contraventions. La première série est donc constituée par les offenses criminelles les plus graves, tandis que la seconde comporte surtout des infractions aux lois provinciales ou aux règlements municipaux.

Au cours de l'année terminée le 30 septembre 1920, il a été prononcé 162,708 condamnations dans ces deux catégories, au lieu de 130,019 en l'année 1919, soit une augmentation de 25·14 pour cent. L'augmentation en 1919 sur 1918 n'avait été que de 5·48 pour cent. Cet accroissement est presque entièrement attribuable aux menus délits et contraventions ou condamnations sommaires. Les condamnations de cette nature ont passé de 111,623 en 1919 à 144,265 en 1920, augmentant de 29·2 pour cent. L'augmentation de 1919 sur 1918 n'a pas dépassé 5·4 pour cent en ce qui concerne les crimes proprement dits, les chiffres étant 17,370 pour 1918, 18,396 pour 1919 et 18,443 pour 1920. L'augmentation de 1919 sur 1918 avait été 5·91 pour cent; en 1920 elle fut de 0·25 pour cent. C'est le pourcentage d'augmentation le plus minime qui ait été constaté depuis 1917, qui ne vit que 15,559 crimes, chiffre le plus bas depuis 1911. On voit donc que, quoique la criminalité ait augmenté d'une manière générale depuis la guerre, les crimes et délits graves sont néanmoins en régression.

Il est également à remarquer que la criminalité juvénile a décliné. En 1919, sur le total des condamnations pour crimes et délits graves, 20·3 pour cent avaient frappé des enfants de moins de 16 ans, pourcentage qui présentait une diminution de 2·3 pour cent sur celui de l'année précédente. En 1920, le même pourcentage est tombé à 18·19. Antérieurement à 1919 et pendant une période de 14 années, il avait suivi une marche ascendante.

Pour se faire une idée exacte de la criminalité juvénile, il est utile de computer les condamnations par âges et par sexes, proportionnellement à la population. Les chiffres de la population sont ceux du recensement de 1911—derniers chiffres officiels—et, d'ailleurs, ces chiffres fussent-ils plus récents, que la proportion n'en serait pas matériellement affectée. Les enfants de moins de 7 ans sont, évidemment, éliminés de ces calculs. D'après le recensement, les garçons de 7 à 15 ans inclusivement représentaient 10·93 pour cent du total de la population âgée de plus de 6 ans. Les condamnations prononcées en 1920 contre les jeunes garçons du même âge représentent 17·53 pour cent du total des condamnations, chiffre disproportionné. Les jeunes gens de 16 à 20 ans inclusivement constituaient 5·96 pour cent de la population et ils ont encouru 16·65 pour cent du total des condamnations, la disproportion en ce qui les concerne étant plus grande que dans le groupe plus jeune.

Le tableau suivant nous donne les proportions respectives de la population et des condamnations pour crimes et délits graves, par groupes d'âges et par sexes.

En 1920, il a été porté 23,213 accusations pour crimes et délits graves, au lieu de 23,021 en 1919. Ainsi qu'on l'a dit plus haut, les condamnations ont été de 18,443 en 1920 et 18,396 en 1919, ce qui donne un pourcentage des condamnations sur les accusations, de 79·5 et 79·9 pour ces deux années respectivement. Depuis une assez longue période d'années, le pourcentage des condamnations prononcées par rapport aux accusations n'a cessé de s'élever presque régulièrement; de 66 pour cent en 1891, il est monté à près de 80 pour cent en 1920; le pourcentage des acquittements a nécessairement décru en conséquence. Nous donnons ci-dessous la moyenne des pourcentages des condamnations et des acquittements, par périodes de cinq ans, pour les 30 dernières années:—

Périodes.	Nombre moyen		Pourcentage des
	Des condamnations	Des acquittements.	Condamnations.	Acquittements.
1891–95	23·376	10·753	68·5	31·5
1896–1900	28·193	11·971	70·2	29·8
1901–05	32,197	15·107	68·1	31·9
1906–10	51·685	17·115	75·1	24·9
1911–15	88·577	27·015	76·6	23·4
1916–20	88·927	22·449	79·8	20·2

Ces chiffres démontrent que les tribunaux prononcent un plus grand nombre de condamnations; d'autre part, on constate que ces condamnations ont une tendance à devenir moins sévères. La proportion des amendes infligées et des sentences suspendues a régulièrement augmenté, en même temps que décroissaient les condamnations à la prison. En 1891, le pourcentage des condamnations à l'amende s'élevait à 14·4 du total des condamnations prononcées; en 1920, il atteignait 30·0; les sentences suspendues durant la même période, passaient de 17 pour cent à 35·7 pour cent. Les condamnations à l'emprisonnement sont tombées de 53 pour cent à 25 pour cent. Enfin, les condamnations au pénitencier pour une durée de deux à cinq ans sont descendues de 7·1 pour cent à 1·4 pour cent. La criminalité ayant augmenté pendant la même période, il devient nécessaire d'approfondir ce sujet. Les tableaux suivants, qui couvrent les trente dernières années, par périodes quinquennales, nous indiquent pour chaque classe de crimes, la proportion respective des différentes sentences imposées par rapport au total des condamnations dans chacune de ces classes.

Il resssort très clairement de ces tableaux que la nature des jugements s'est sensiblement modifiée pendant cette période. Les condamnations au pénitencier pour cinq ans et plus ont diminué de 33½ pour cent dans la première classe et, dans les autres classes, de 72 pour cent dans la deuxième classe à près de 90 pour cent dans la quatrième classe. Les condamnations au pénitencier pour 2 à 5 ans n'ont pas eu une décroissance aussi rapide. Dans la première classe, on remarque une augmentation de 5·4 pour cent, mais dans les autres classes les diminutions s'échelonnnent entre 33·2 pour cent dans la cinquième classe et 79·2 pour cent dans la quatrième classe. Les condamnations à l'emprisonnement pour un ou deux ans n'accusent pas un fléchissement aussi accentué; toutefois les comdamnations à moins d'un an ont décliné de 25 pour cent dans la cinquième classe et de 74 pour cent dans la quatrième classe. Les condamnations à l'amende se sont accrues dans chaque classe, cet accroissement allant jusqu'à 700 pour cent dans la cinquième classe. En ce qui concerne les sentences suspendues, l'augmentation la plus considérable se trouve dans la deuxième classe, où elle atteint 280 pour cent.

C'est dans la quatrième classe que l'on constate la plus grande diminution des peines d'emprisonnement et la plus grande augmentation des condamnations à l'amende et des sentences suspendues; ensuite viennent les deuxième et sixième classes. La première classe présente moins de changement que les autres.

Le tableau qui suit, consacré aux récidivistes, complète les données précédentes.

Il semble résulter du tableau qui précède que la proportion des crimes commis par les récidivistes est demeurée sensiblement la même. C'est dans les deux périodes quinquennales qui se placent entre 1896 et 1905 que l'on trouve la proportion la plus élevée de récidivistes condamnés. Cette proportion, après avoir subi une baisse, se relève maintenant.

Jetons un coup d'œil maintenant sur les assassinats et la peine de mort. Le pourcentage des condamnations pour meurtres, par rapport au nombre total des meurtres, est comparativement minime. Au cours de la période de trente ans qui nous occupe, les condamnations de cette nature n'ont pas dépassé 36·5 pour cent du nombre total des procès pour meurtre; d'autres part, 57 pour cent seulement des condamnés à mort ont été exécutés, les commutations en emprisonnement à perpétuité atteignant 43 pour cent. De ce nombre 38 pour cent virent la durée de leur emprisonnement réduite et, enfin, quelques-uns furent, plus tard, libérés.

Le tableau qui suit, divisé en périodes quinquennales, allant de 1891 à 1920, nous donne le nombre moyen pour chaque période, des meurtres commis, des condamnations prononcées et des exécutions.

1ère SECTION.—CRIMES ET DÉLITS GRAVES, JUSTICIABLES DE LA COUR D'ASSISES.

Ils sont divisés en six classes: 1ère classe, attentats contre les personnes; 2ème classe, délits contre la propriété, avec violence; 3ème classe, délits contre la propriété, sans violence; 4ème classe, attentats criminels contre la propriété; 5ème classe, faux et faux monnayage; 6ème classe, autres délits non compris dans les classes précédentes.

Procédure.

Les crimes et délits sont portés devant les cours d'assises; devant un juge, sans l'assistance d'un jury, en vertu de la loi sur les procès expéditifs ou, enfin, devant les magistrats de police et autres, en vertu de la loi sur les procès sommaires. En 1920, les cours et tribunaux ont eu à connaître de 23,213 crimes et délits graves, 21,089 imputables aux individus du sexe masculin et 2,124 au sexe féminin, la proportion étant de 10 hommes pour une femme. Il y eut 18,443 condamnations prononcées et 4,770 acquittements. Dans ce dernier nombre, entrent 156 cas de désaccord du jury, 10 cas de non-lieu et dix autres cas de «nolle prosequi» ou suspension des poursuites. Les cours d'assises ont condamné 1,463 malfaiteurs, dont 1,395 hommes et 68 femmes; les juges jugeant sans jury, 4,272 dont 4,019 hommes et 253 femmes; les magistrats de police ou autres 17,478, dont 15,675 hommes et 1,083 femmes.

On trouvera dans le tableau qui suit le nombre des procès portés devant chacune de ces juridictions, depuis 1900, le pourcentage des causes retenues par chacune d'elles, ainsi que le pourcentage des condamnations prononcées dans chaque cour, par rapport aux accusations portées.

On y voit que les procès par jury ont passé de 5·0 pour cent en 1919, à 6·3 pour cent en 1920, cette proportion étant la plus élevée que l'on ait constatée depuis 1911, lorsqu'elle atteignit 7·0; celle des procès expéditifs et des procès sommaires n'a subi que d'insignifiantes variations. Dans les procès par jury et les procès sommaires, le pourcentage des condamnations prononcées a augmenté; au contraire, ce pourcentage a diminué dans les procès expéditifs. Les jurés n'ont pas prononcé, proportionnellement, autant de condamnations que les deux autres cours.

Nous avons relevé dans le tableau qui suit, les accusations, les condamnations et les acquittements, ainsi que le pourcentage des condamnations par rapport aux accusations, pour chacune des provinces, en 1919 et 1920.

C'est au Nouveau-Brunswick que la proportion des condamnations par rapport aux accusations est la plus élevée, avec 97·85 pour cent; Ontario, la Saskatchewan et le Manitoba suivent avec des pourcentages oscillant entre 82·05 et 80·57 pour cent; enfin, viennent Québec, le Yukon, la Nouvelle-Ecosse, l'Alberta et la Colombie Britannique, avec des pourcentages variant de 77·77 à 71·76. Dans l'Ile du Prince-Edouard, où, en 1919, 96·88 pour cent des accusés étaient condamnés, la même proportion est descendue, en 1920, à 65·48 pour cent.

Pour chaque province, la proportion des criminels qui les habitent a été relevée par 100,000 habitants.

En 1920, c'est la province d'Ontario qui tient la tête au point de vue de la criminalité, avec 294 malfaiteurs par 100,000 habitants. Les autres provinces se placent dans l'ordre suivant: Manitoba, Colombie Britannique, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Québec, Nouvelle-Ecosse, Nouveau-Brunswick, et Yukon. L'Ile du Prince-Edouard ferme la marche avec 20 criminels seulement par 100,000 habitants.

En poursuivant l'étude des données statistiques, on trouve que 87·7 pour cent des condamnés pour crimes et délits graves vivaient dans les cités et dans les villes et 11·5 pour cent dans les campagnes. Cette indication manque pour ·08 pour cent des condamnés. Il résulte du recensement de 1911 que la population urbaine du Canada représentait à peine 42 pour cent de la population totale. Voici le relevé à cet égard: en 1920, urbains comdamnés 16,178; ruraux condamnés 2,111; résidences inconnues 154. En 1919, urbains 16,305; ruraux 2,051; non-classifiés 40.

Si l'on veut connaître les métiers et occupations des condamnés, cette information se trouvera dans le tableau suivant. La classification des occupations a été changée de façon à correspondre à celle dont on s'est servie pour le recensement; toutefois, cette modification ne s'oppose pas à l'établissement d'un parallèle avec les années précédentes. Les catégories intitulées «agriculteurs, bûcherons et ouvriers de scieries, pêcheurs et mineurs», étaient autrefois groupées toutes ensemble sous la rubrique générale «agriculteurs». La rubrique «industriels et employés des industries» est devenue «industries manufacturières»; l'ancienne rubrique «commerce et transports» a été subdivisée en «transports» et «commerçants et employés de commerce»; les trois autres catégories «domestiques et serviteurs», «carrières libérales» et «journaliers» n'ont subi aucun changement. On trouvera dans le tableau suivant la relation existant entre les différents métiers et professions, au point de vue de la criminalité.

En ce qui concerne le sexe des condamnés, on constate que ceux du sexe masculin, qui étaient au nombre de 16,161 en 1919, se dénombraient par 16,722 en 1920, soit une augmentation de 3·4 pour cent, tandis que les condamnations prononcées contre les femmes et les filles sont tombées de 2,235 en 1919 à 1,721 en 1920, soit une diminution de 23·0 pour cent.

On trouvera dans le tableau suivant, par chaque province, le nombre des condamnations prononcées contre les femmes et les filles en 1919 et en 1920, ainsi que le pourcentage par rapport au total des condamnations.

Pour la première fois, les hébreux figurent séparément; les années précédentes ils étaient compris sous la rubrique «autres sectes.»

Les informations recueillies au point de vue du degré d'instruction des condamnés pour crimes et délits graves démontrent qu'en 1920, ceux complètement illettrés formaient 5·0 pour cent du total; ceux ayant reçu une instruction primaire 76·9 pour cent; une instruction supérieure 1·4 pour cent, enfin, le degré d'instruction de 16·7 pour cent d'entre eux était inconnu. En 1919, ces pourcentages étaient respectivement 4·5, 78·3, 1·5 et 15·61.

On s'est également préoccupé d'établir une distinction entre les condamnés considérés comme buveurs modérés et ceux adonnés à l'usage immodéré des boissons spiritueuses; le tableau ci-dessous couvrant la période 1887-1920, nous renseigne à cet égard:

Parmi les condamnés, ceux qui subissaient leur première condamnation formaient 81·9 pour cent du total, ceux qui étaient condamnés pour la deuxième fois, 9·0 pour cent et, enfin, les récidivistes ou criminels endurcis formaient 9·1 pour cent. En 1919, ces proportions respectives étaient 82·2, 8·9 et 8·9. L'état civil des condamnés pour crimes et délits graves, au cours des cinq dernières années, est relevé dans le tableau suivant, en pourcentages de la totalité des condamnations:

Notons ici les principaux changements survenus dans les chiffres des deux années qui nous occupent: dans la 1ère classe, les meurtres ont diminué et les homicides involontaires ont augmenté; les coups et blessures graves et les voies de fait sur les femmes ont augmenté considérablement. Dans la IIème classe, les vols avec effraction et cambriolage présentent une décroissance substantielle. Dans la IIIème classe, le vol sous ses différentes formes, est en diminution; au contraire, la fraude, l'escroquerie et le recel d'objets volés se sont accrus. Dans la IVème classe, les dommages intentionnels sur biens ont décliné. Les crimes de la Vème classe sont devenus plus nombreux. Dans la VIème classe, la négligence criminelle, la conduite d'un automobile étant en état d'ivresse et l'intimidation que nous trouvons en 1920, étaient autrefois compris sous l'item «différents autres crimes et délits»; d'autre part, la distillation illicite se confondait avec les infractions aux lois fiscales; dans l'ensemble, il y eut un plus grand nombre d'accusations dans cette classe, mais moins de condamnations.

Criminalité juvénile—Crimes et délits graves.

Le tableau VIII de ce rapport est consacré aux jeunes délinquants, par classes de crimes et délits graves et par province, en 1920. Au total, 3,624 jeunes délinquants ont été traduits en justice, dont 3,355 ont été condamnés et 269 acquittés. Les tribunaux pour enfants ont eu à connaître de 2,458 de ces cas, savoir: à Montréal 732, à Toronto 1,025, à Winnipeg 282, à Vancouver 145, à Ottawa 61, à Halifax 30, à Victoria 23, et à Brandon 60. Les 1,166 autres cas ont été jugés devant les tribunaux de police ordinaires. Outre les condamnations ci-dessus, les tribunaux pour enfants ont prononcé 2,953 autres condamnations pour menus délits ou contraventions ainsi qu'on le verra dans le tableau IX, que l'on consultera quant aux détails.

IIème SECTION—CONDAMNATIONS SOMMAIRES.

La seconde catégorie comprend les causes jugées par les magistrats de police ou autres juges de paix, en vertu de la loi sur les condamnations sommaires, lesquelles consistent principalement en infractions aux lois provinciales et aux règlements municipaux, perturbations de la paix, voies de fait, violation des lois sur les boissons spiritueuses, ivresse et tous autres menus délits et contraventions.

Pour toutes ces causes, 144,265 condamnations ont été prononcées en 1920, au lieu de 111,623 en 1919 et 105,899 en 1918, soit une augmentation en 1920 sur l'année précédente de 29·2 pour cent; cette augmentation en 1919, sur 1918, n'avait été que de 5·4 pour cent. Les condamnations prononcées en 1920 ont atteint 135,873 hommes et 8.392 femmes, le pourcentage des femmes pendant les trois années 1918, 1919 et 1920 étant respectivement 7·27, 7·43 et 5·82. La réduction de ce pourcentage en 1920 est notable, d'autant plus que depuis plusieurs années, il suivait une marche ascendante.

Le tableau suivant contient le nombre de condamnations sommaires, par province, en 1920, comparativement à 1919.

Canada	111,623	103,323	8,300	144,265	135,873	8,392	+29·2	+31·5	+ 1·1

Dans chaque province, uniformément, les condamnations frappant les hommes ont augmenté en nombre; celles atteignant les femmes ont augmenté dans Ontario, le Manitoba, l'Alberta, la Colombie Britannique et le Yukon; elles ont diminué dans l'Ile du Prince-Edouard, la Nouvelle-Ecosse, le Nouveau-Brunswick, Québec et la Saskatchewan.

Voici maintenant comment s'opère la répartition de ces condamnations, groupées par délits connexes:—

Délits et contraventions	1919	1920	Fluctuation
	Nombre	Nombre
Voies de faits et autres attentats contre les personnes	5,116	5,334	+218
Empiètement et autres délits contre la propriété	3,070	2,486	−584
Infractions aux règlements municipaux	39,593	59,378	+19,785

Violation des lois militaires et des mesures de guerre	6,082	1,047	−5,035
Différents menus délits et contraventions	15,241	15,265	+24
Total	111,623	144,265	+32,642

Les changements les plus remarquables indiqués par le tableau qui précède sont d'abord l'accroissement considérable des infractions aux règlements municipaux, aux lois des liqueurs spiritueuses et de l'ivresse. La cessation des opérations militaires a nécessairement réduit le nombre des réfractaires aux lois militaires. Les infractions aux règlements municipaux qui ont augmenté de près de 50 pour cent consistent principalement en contraventions de différentes sortes relatives à la circulation des véhicules. Depuis l'année précédente, les condamnations pour ivresse ont augmenté de 64 pour cent et les infractions aux lois contre l'alcoolisme de 39 pour cent.

En 1920, il a été prononcé 39,769 condamnations pour ivresse, au lieu de 24,217 en 1919 et 10,247 condamnations pour infractions aux lois sur les boissons spiritueuses, au lieu de 7,383 en 1919. Antérieurement à l'année 1919, les condamnations pour ivresse avaient régulièrement décliné d'année en année depuis 1913, où elles atteignirent 60,975, jusqu'à 1918, où elles étaient tombées à 21,026. En interprétant des statistiques de cette nature, il faut les considérer, non-seulement au point de vue du fait même, mais aussi au point de vue des mœurs. Ainsi qu'on l'a déjà fait observer, la criminalité, d'une manière générale, a sensiblement diminué pendant les premières années de la guerre, mais elle a repris son mouvement ascensionnel depuis la fin des hostilités. Il faut aussi faire entrer en ligne de compte l'adoption de nouvelles lois répressives et le degré de rigueur qui s'attache à leur observation.

Les 36,009 condamnations pour ivresse, prononcées en 1920, ont entraîné le paiement d'amendes s'élevant à $315,099; d'autres amendes infligées mais impayées représentent $65,294. En 1919, 21,975 personnes avaient été condamnés pour le même délit, $186,176 d'amendes avaient été payées et $39,763 étaient restées impayées.

Pour infractions aux lois sur la prohibition et aux autres lois sur la vente' la circulation et la consommation des boissons spiritueuses, 9.614 condamnations ont été prononcées en 1920; les condamnés ont payé $1,442,754 d'amendes et $244,676 d'amendes n'ont pas été acquittées. En 1919, il y avait eu 7.079 condamnés, $930,947 d'amendes payées et $247,995 d'amendes impayées. Dans ces chiffres, ne sont pas compris les condamnations ayant frappé les distillateurs illicites, ce délit rentrant dans la première catégorie.

Des tableaux comparatifs des condamnations sommaires, par province, se trouvent pages 239 à 249 et des tableaux rétrospectifs de toutes classes de délits se trouvent pages 295 à 300.

En 1913, on a cessé la tabulation des condamnations et des acquittements prononcés par les différents tribunaux; le tableau XIII a été dressé pour fournir ces indications depuis 1913 jusqu'à maintenant et, à l'avenir, il figurera dans chacun des rapports annuels sous son ancienne forme.

Grâces et commutations.

En 1920, le droit de grâce s'est exercé en faveur de 1,217 condamnés, soit une diminution de 236 sur 1919. Sur ce nombre, 751 ont bénéficié des dispositions de la loi sur la libération conditionnelle et ont été relâchés sous condition; 352 ont été libérés définitivement, sous des conditions diverses; 114 autres ont été complètement graciés, enfin, les amendes prononcées ont été soit remises, soit réduites dans 68 cas. 24 condamnés bénéficiant déjà de la libération conditionnelle ont été affranchis des obligations qu'elle comporte. Parmi les prisonniers relâchés, 414 étaient dans les pénitenciers, 255 dans les maisons de corrections et 480 dans les prisons. Douze condamnations à mort ont été commuées pendant l'année.

Statistiques de la police.

Pour la première fois, nous faisons entrer dans ce rapport les statistiques des opérations policières, l'objet en vue étant de découvrir et faire connaître le total des crimes et délits «connus de la police». Jusqu'ici, la statistique de la criminalité se limitait aux causes portées devant les tribunaux. Toutefois, un nombre important de criminels échappent aux investigations de la police et au châtiment. Il est évident que le niveau exact de la criminalité ne réside pas dans le nombre des criminels amenés devant la justice, mais dans le nombre des crimes commis. C'est dans ce but qu'un questionnaire spécial a été envoyé aux autorités municipales de 104 cités et villes ayant une population de plus de 4,000 habitants, au recensement de 1911. Avec quelques difficultés, nous avons obtenu des réponses satisfaisantes de 88 cités ou villes, quoique dans certains cas, faute de chiffres exacts, nous ayont dû nous contenter de chiffres approximatifs.

Les villes suivantes ont négligé de nous renseigner: New Glasgow, North Sydney et Sydney Mines, en Nouvelle-Ecosse; Chatham, Nouveau-Brunswick; Lévis, Shawinigan Falls et Sorel dans Québec et Cobourg, Goderich, Hawkesbury, Niagara Falls, North Bay, Pembroke, Port Hope, St-Thomas et Waterloo dans Ontario.

Les statistiques policières couvrent l'année ordinaire ou de calendrier; elles diffèrent donc de trois mois d'avec celles des autres parties du rapport.

Les 88 cités ou villes qui ont répondu à nos questions possèdent toutes ensemble, un personnel policier de 3,614 hommes. En 1920, le nombre des crimes, délits et contraventions, de toutes sortes, venus à la connaissance de la police, avait atteint le chiffre de 183,126. D'autre part, 151,468 personnes ont été arrêtées ou bien citées à comparaître devant les tribunaux pour y être jugées, ce qui laisse 31,658 criminels ou délinquants inconnus. Par exemple, 22,820 vols ont été déclarés, tandis que les accusations pour vol indiquées dans le tableau I de ce rapport, s'élèvent au nombre de 10,575 et les condamnations à 8,768. Quoique l'on ait eu connaissance de 5,655 vols avec effraction, cambriolages de maisons et de magasins, 2,317 personnes seulement ont été poursuivies de ce chef et 2,073 condamnées. Il a été dénoncé à la police 563 cas de vols à main armée et cependant, 332 de ces attentats seulement ont été déférés à la justice et ont entrainé 237 condamnations.

Les plaintes pour vols d'automobiles ont atteint le chiffre respectable de 3,682 et la valeur des autos volés $4,762,043; la police en a retrouvé 3,534, évalués à $4,535,458, les 148 autres n'ayant pas été récupérés. Quant aux bicyclettes, 4,814 ont été volées et 2,624 rendues à leurs propriétaires. De plus, la police a trouvé 2,325 bicyclettes, au sujet desquelles nulle déclaration de vol n'existait et 2,151 d'entre elles ont trouvé leur maitre.

La valeur des autres articles dont le vol a été déclaré s'est élevée à $2,325,755, dont on a retrouvé une partie évaluée à $1,336,027.

Il a été pris 5,217 photographies de détenus et 12,499 empreintes digitales. Enfin, 1,724 identifications ont été établies.

Il s'est produit dans les rues, 13,766 accidents.

Les agents de police ont trouvé 10,509 portes non fermées à clé.

Au cours de l'année, la police a donné un abri à 22,927 personnes et ramené à leurs parents 5,212 enfants égarés.

Nouveaux districts judiciaires.

A la date du premier mai 1920, le district judiciaire d'Athabaska, Alberta, a été supprimé et le sous-district judiciaire de Peace River érigé en district judiciaire. Le district judiciaire d'Edmonton a absorbé tout le territoire de l'ancien district d'Athabaska, à l'exception de la partie attribuée à Peace River.

Le district judiciaire d'Acadia, créé le 15 septembre 1919, est formé du district de Calgary et d'une partie du sous-district de Bassano.

Trois nouveaux districts judiciaires ont été formés dans la Saskatchewan: Cypress, constitué au moyen d'une partie du territoire du district de Swift Current, Gravelbourg détaché de Moose Jaw et de Weyburn, et Melfort qui faisait autrefois partie du district de Prince Albert. Le nouveau district de Melfort, ayant été créé vers la fin de 1920 n'a pas fait de rapport.

REPORT

OF THE

Inspection of Weights and Measures, Electricity and Gas

To the Right Honourable
The Minister of Trade and Commerce.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the annual report on the Inspection of Weights and Measures, Electricity and Gas; also statements in connection therewith for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1920.

F. C. T. O'HARA,
Deputy Minister.

DEPARTMENT OF TRADE AND COMMERCE,

OTTAWA, May 4, 1920.

Mr. E. O. Way, Chief Inspector of Weights and Measures, reports as follows:—

The Revenue and statistics for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1920, show a considerable increase in the activities of the Weights and Measures Inspection Service for the past year.

The number of weights, measures and machines inspection has increased by 39,408 over the preceding year, and the revenue shows an increase of $12,-975.63.

This service, by virtue of the itinerary nature of its inspection work, has suffered severely under the ever increasing cost of travelling and living. As a consequence, expenses have mounted alarmingly in the past four years, whilst the revenue cannot increase in proportion, since the Inspection fees are fixed by Order in Council.

The following table shows the relation between revenue, expenditure and articles inspected for the past five years:—

——	Revenue.	Expenditure.	Articles Inspected.
1915–16	$112,204 11	$187,113 58	309,237
1916–17	131,625 60	188,086 60	386,318
1917–18	141,389 40	211,060 39	389,985
1918–19	136,497 80	229,885 89	388,338
1919–20	149,473 43	272,515 36	427,746

In this period the number of articles inspected show an increase of 118,509, or 38·3%. The revenue collected, which throughout the period is based upon the same statutory fees, shows an increase of $37,269.32, or 33·2%—whilst expenses have increased by $91,401.78, or 48·8%, which is made up as follows:—

Increased salaries	$34,587 11
Bonus	45,663 54
Increased expenses	11,151 13
	$91,401 78

That there should be an increase of only $11,151.13 in the actual working expenses of the service, with the extraordinary rise in prices during the past five years, speaks well for the economic efforts of all the officers concerned.

Salaries also—in spite of the above increase, are still quite moderate.

The total on account of salaries is $180,501.15—including $45-663.54 bonus. The average salary then (there being 134 officers) is only $1,006.25—whereas the Classification establishes a minimum of $1,200. The excess of expenditure over revenue for the past year, however, has reached the large sum of $123,041.93, and an Order in Council has been secured raising inspection fees as from April 1, 1920, with a view to reducing this large deficit and making the service more nearly self-sustaining. A general financial statement showing the revenue and expenditure by divisions will be found in Appendix A.

The following table gives a summary of the machines, etc., inspected during the year, of which detailed statements will be found in Appendices B and C:—

Under the Milk Test Act, 44,386 pieces of Babcock glassware, used in butter fat and other dairy tests, have been verified and stamped in the Weights and Measures Standards Branch, producing a revenue of $2,188.35, showing an increase of $615·25 over last year.

During the year 209 seizures and 18 prosecutions have been made. Most of the seizures cover old machines that can be more cheaply replaced than repaired.

Only serious cases, such as the use of false machines, are prosecuted. Convictions were secured in all eighteen cases except one, and fines to the amount of $320 inflicted. The latter amount appears small, but conviction also includes costs and the confiscation (in most cases) of the scale or machine involved, which to-day is not a small item.

SHORT WEIGHT.

Wherever an inspector goes he now exercises, as part of his official duties, supervision for the elimination of short weight and measure. Package goods are checked over, such as bags of flour, butter prints, packages of tea and such like. All over Canada the attendance of the Weights and Measures inspector at the public markets in the interest of this work has rendered considerable aid to the Dairy Department of Agriculture in the elimination of short-weight butter. Beneficial enquiry has also been extended to the milling industry and the bagging of flour. Considerable difficulty is experienced and much discretion must be exercised in this short weight inspection work because of the natural factor of shrinkage and evaporation. A 98-pound bag of flour has been known to shrink 5 pounds before it reaches the consumer—but since 93 pounds of dry flour will produce the same amount of dough, bread or pastry as 98 pounds of moist flour, there is no loss to the consumer. Attention has therefore been specially directed to see that full weight is bagged at the mills.

THE METRIC SYSTEM.

The fact that the World Trade Club of San Fransisco, U.S.A., has made an immense distribution throughout Canada of metric literature and resolution cards, calling upon the Government to enact legislation making the Metric System compulsory, calls for special comment.

The Resolution Cards have been coming in since January last, and to date only 359 have been received. Of these, only 91 come from manufacturers and industries of any nature, the balance of 268 being signed by doctors, dentists, lawyers, teachers and ministers.

Science naturally espouses the Metric System, the full use of which it now enjoys, but it is upon commerce and production that the burden and consequences of the change will fall.

Realizing the truth of this, as I mentioned in my report last year, a special English Committee appointed 1918 to examine into English trade policy, reported emphatically against the compulsory use of the Metric System. And as against the advocacy of doctors and dentists we have a resolution from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association strongly protesting against any such change.

The reason for the manufacturers, the practical men's protest, is found in the absolute lack of relation between existing English sizes and their metric equivalents, and the confusion this must cause amongst the thousands of interchangeable parts in modern machinery, etc. Following are a few comparisons by way of illustration:—

1 inch = 25·41 mm.	1 cm. = ·3937 inches.
$1\frac{1}{8}$ " = 28·575 "	1 dm. = 3·937 "
$1\frac{1}{4}$ " = 31·75 "	1 Metre = 39·37 "
1 ft. " = 30·48 c.m.
1 yard = 91·44 cm.

A lot 25 × 100 ft. = 2,500 square feet, becomes 7·62 × 30·48 metres = 232·2576 square metres.

In the matter of screw threads, a 1-inch bolt, 8 threads to the inch, pitch $\frac{1}{8}$ inch, becomes a 25·4 mm. bolt—8 threads per 25·4 mm. with pitch 3·17 mm.

Metric standardization would eventually replace such odd sizes—but what has to be remembered is, there are millions of English bolts, screws and nuts in use to-day that will not disappear for a great many years.

Again—

1 quart = 1·1365 litres.	1 litre = 0·88 quarts.
1 gallon = 4·5459 "
1 bushel = 36·368 "

A change from the bushel to the metric system will destroy all present cereal standards and prices, e.g.:—

1 bushel wheat = 60 pounds.
1 " oats = 34 lbs.

The practiced farmer can to-day grade his grain at a glance to within a pound per bushel. How long will it take him to learn the new language of measurement and compute in kilograms per hectolitre, not to mention the change in money valuation that must also ensue.

These illustrate but a few practical difficulties as opposed to the laudable but theoretical ideal of international uniformity. And if history affords any lesson it is that the introduction of the Metric System will intensify confusion in weights and measures instead of eliminating the so-called English chaos.

In no country that has "adopted" the Metric System is its use complete, and this is astonishingly shown in France, the mother of the Metric System, for in 1906 the French Minister of Commerce and Industry wrote to the French Chambers of Commerce—

> "My department at different times has been called upon to give to the Department of Weights and Measures instructions for accomplishing the total suppression of the measures and weights prohibited by the old law of July 4, 1837, by the seizure of the prohibited articles. The department in spite of all such efforts has not succeeded in attaining the desired result. The situation appears to be due to the persistence with which certain trades continue to use the prohibited weights and measures."

If this is the situation in France, and we know it is the same in other metric countries—for in the South American Republics, the Spanish and English weights and measures are all used along with the metric, in spite of compulsory laws—there is every reason to believe that the situation will be no better, but much worse in the British Empire, because of its intensive industrial development in which the English weights and measures are more permanently embedded than were the old French units in France at the time of the French Revolution.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 10e

ELECTRICITY AND GAS INSPECTION.

Mr. O. Higman, Director of Electricity and Gas Inspection services, reports as follows:—

The inspection work of these services continues to expand. The number of electric meters verified during the fiscal year was 182,214 and gas meters 83,954, making a total of 266,168. This indicates an increase of over 50,000 meters for the year. Add to this the number of tests made in the standardizing laboratories at Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver and the total will reach approximately 500,000 tests. Some difficulty has been experienced in maintaining the inspection staff up to a condition adequate to meet the increase in the amount of work, due largely to the fact that better salaries are being paid by the electric lighting and power Companies.

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

Revenue—
Electricity inspection	$ 115,931 95
Gas inspection	61,694 55
Total	$ 177,626 50
Expenditure—
Electricity inspection	$ 95,192 95
Gas inspection	46,534 82
Total	$ 141,727 77

This shows an apparent surplus of $35,898.73, but if the cost of the technical staff at Ottawa is deducted therefrom it will largely disappear.

The completion of the work of equipment of the Winnipeg electrical standardizing laboratory has been delayed somewhat by the non-delivery of switchboard material, but the work of checking the inspection standards of the division has been carried on under improvised conditions and no very serious inconvenience has been experienced. It is expected that the equipment of the laboratory will be completed within the next few months and the standards made available for the comparison of instruments from the electric companies and industries generally.

THE EXPORTATION OF ELECTRICAL ENERGY.

There are eleven hydro-electric companies at present engaged in the export of electrical energy to the United States under conditions as to quantities and terms similar to those that obtained prior to the war. With regard to the demand made by certain of the municipalities of Ontario that the export of power be reduced in order that an increased supply be made available for Canadian users, it may be stated that on former occasions when the cutting-off of the export of electric power has been raised interested parties in the United States have pointed out that should the export be discontinued by Canada the question of the export of coal from the United States to Canada would also have to be considered, and discontinuance in the one case would no doubt be followed by similar action in the other.

During the year 1919 Canada imported approximately 21,000,000 tons of coal from the United States and exported 2,000,000,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy and 1,201,395 tons of bituminous coal equivalent approximately to 4,201,395 tons of coal, thus placing Canada in the debtor column to the extent of 16,798,605 tons.

The details of the operations under the various Acts administered by the branch will be found in the appendices to this report.

DOMINION OF CANADA

REPORT

OF THE

COMMISSIONER OF PATENTS

FOR THE

Fiscal Year ending March 31, 1920

PRINTED BY ORDER OF PARLIAMENT

OTTAWA
THOMAS MULVEY
PRINTER TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY
1920

To His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire K.G., P.C., G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O., etc., etc.,
Governor General and Commander in Chief of the Dominion of Canada.

May It Please Your Excellency,—

The undersigned has the honour to present to Your Excellency the report of the Commissioner of Patents for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1920.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEORGE E. FOSTER,
Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Ottawa, September 16, 1920.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

COMMISSIONER OF PATENTS

The Rt. Hon. Sir George E. Foster, P.C., G.C.M.G., M.P.,
Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Sir,—In pursuance of the requirements of the 63rd section of the Patent Act, Chap. 69, R.S.C. 1906, and section 5A of An Act respecting the Patent Act, the Copyright Act, the Trademark and Design Act, and the Timber Marking Act, Chap. 64, 9 & 10, George 5, I have the honour to report as follows upon the proceedings in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1920, under the provisions of these Acts.

Proceedings under War Provisions.

Under the "Orders and Regulations respecting Patents of Invention made under the War Measures Act, 1914," and amendments thereto and under Chap. 26, 10 George 5, the renewal fees on 111 patents were accepted and the patents revived. Extension of time to import and manufacture was granted on 402 and 301 patents respectively, and 5 patents were placed under the compulsory license clause, section 44 of the Patent Act. A large number of applications for patents for which the time limit for filing had expired under section 8 of the Patent Act were also accepted.

General Business.

The fiscal year ended March 31, 1920, was the busiest in the history of the administration of the Patent, Copyright, Trademark and Design, and Timber Marking Acts. The cessation of war turned the activities of manufacturers and producers from war to peace production and this was soon reflected in the receipts of the office. The number of applications for patents was greater by 23 per cent than the preceding year and the fees from all patent sources increased over 22 per cent. The number of patents granted was the largest since the establishment of the office and showed a gain of 57 per cent over 1919 and of 20 per cent over the best previous year. Reports by examiners increased 18 per cent and the number of assignments registered against patents exceeded the previous year by 22 per cent. Caveats granted increased 17 per cent, and the number of patents placed under the compulsory license clause, section 44 of the Patent Act, was greater by 10 per cent than in 1919. Notices under section 8 of the Patent Act showed a decrease of 7 per cent.

The increase in registration of copyrights, trademarks, industrial designs and timber marks was particularly heavy. In all cases, with the exception of timber marks, there were large increases and the total registrations exceeded the preceeding year by 50 per cent, and the fees received were greater by the same percentage.

While part of the increased activities in the office arose from the relief given under the emergency legislation, the greater part was due to natural growth. Throughout the history of the office with the exception of the first three years of the World's War there has been a continuous growth in the business before the office.

A statement of the particulars of the transactions of the Patent and Copyright Office is given in Appendix A, and a comparative statement for the last ten years is given in Appendix B.

Receipts and Expenditure.

A statement of receipts and expenditure is given in Appendix C and detailed statements of the fees received from Patents, and from Copyrights, Trademarks, Designs and Timber Marks are given in Appendices D and E, respectively.

The receipts from Patent Fees were $294,046.28, an increase of $58,515.25 over the amount for 1919. The receipts from Copyright, Trade Mark, Industrial Design and Timber Mark Fees were $60,450.69, an increase of $20,271.87. The total receipts were $354,496.97 as compared with $275,709.85 in 1919, an increase of $78,787.12. The surplus of receipts over expenditure was $183,909.80.

Residence of Inventors for Patents Granted in 1919-1920.

In Appendix F is given the country of residence of inventors for patents granted. Out of the total number of patents issued during the year 71 per cent were applied for by inventors resident in the United States. Over 15 per cent came from Canadian inventors and Great Britain and Ireland contributed 7 per cent. The remaining 7 per cent came from inventors in 29 other countries.

Exchange of Publications.

The office continues to receive the official reports of patents and trade marks from Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, the United States, Italy, Switzerland and Japan in addition to about forty other periodicals of a scientific nature. Most of these are received in exchange for the Canadian Patent Office Record. The office also receives the abridgments of patents of Great Britain and the printed copies of patents of France and of the current weekly issue of the United States.

Staff.

The total number of persons in the employment of the office at the end of the year was 89. This includes a number of the staff who had returned during the year from service in H. M.'s forces. Two examiners are on leave of absence without pay.

Trend of Invention.

The subject of transportation was pre-eminent in the field of invention. There were more applications relating to the many branches of this subject than in the previous year. The number of applications in connection with motor vehicles was the largest of any single class of invention and the class of internal combustion engines was second. Signals for indicating to a following vehicle an intention to turn or stop and devices for locking a vehicle to prevent unauthorized use were noteworthy features. There was a slight decrease in the number of aeronautical applications. Of those filed there was an increased number for parachutes and safety appliances.

Applications for inventions connected with military and naval subjects showed a marked falling off. The classes of ordnance, fire-arms and projectiles as well as ship construction and anti-submarine devices have greatly decreased.

Toys and games are responsible for an increased number of applications. Dolls and dolls' heads, previously largely made abroad, are worthy of mention in this connection.

The electrical industry as a whole is prominent, although few outstanding features call for comment. There has been continued progress in telephony especially automatic and semi-automatic systems. Attention has also been given to the development of wireless telegraphy and telephony, particularly in receiving systems.

New Legislation.

Two new Acts were passed by Parliament during the year, viz., an Act respecting the Patent Act, the Copyright Act, the Trade Mark and Design Act, and the Timber Marking Act (9 and 10 George 5, Chap. 64), assented to July 7, 1919; and an Act respecting Patents of Invention (10 George 5, Chap. 26), assented to November 10, 1919.

The first of these Acts provided for the administration of the office under a Commissioner of Patents with the rank and powers of a deputy head, directly responsible to the minister of the department under which the office is placed. The Act also made a number of minor amendments necessary to carry out such administration.

The second Act superseded the Orders and Regulations of the War Measures Act and gave the Commissioner of Patents similar powers until the regulations respecting industrial property under the Treaty of Peace became effective.

A new Patent Bill was introduced into the House of Commons and received the first reading. The new Copyright Bill which had been reported upon by the Senate the previous year was also introduced into the House and read a first time. No further progress had been made with either Bill when Parliament prorogued.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. F. O'HALLORAN,

Commissioner of Patents.

[No. 11—1921]

To His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, K.G., P.C., G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O., etc., etc., etc., Governor General and Commander in Chief of the Dominion of Canada.

May it Please Your Excellency:—

The undersigned has the honour to present to Your Excellency the Annual Report of the Department of Customs and Inland Revenue, containing Tables and Statements relative to the Imports, Exports, Customs and Inland Revenue of the Dominion of Canada, for the Fiscal Year ended March 31, 1920, as compiled from official returns.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. W. WIGMORE,
Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue.

Ottawa, October 30, 1920.

PREFACE.

The Customs Act contains the following provisions respecting the Annual Report of the Department of Customs:—

"305. The Minister shall annually make to the Governor General, to be laid before Parliament within fifteen days after the meeting thereof, a report and statement of the transactions and affairs of the Department during the year then next preceding."

The Inland Revenue Act also contains provisions respecting the Annual Report of the Inland Revenue Service as follows:—

"14. The Minister shall annually make to the Governor General a report and statement of the transactions and affairs of the Department during the year then next preceding, which shall be laid before Parliament within fifteen days after the next meeting thereof."

The unrevised monthly statements of imports and exports, prepared and published under the direction of the Department of Customs from July 1, 1900, ceased to be published by this department since March, 1918.

Detailed statements, however, showing the quantity, value, and origin of imports, and the quantity, value, and destination of exports, continue to be prepared and furnished monthly by the Department of Customs from April 1, 1918, for publication by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Trade Statistics classified by countries, with other details compiled from Customs returns, are now published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Part I of this annual report contains tables and statements relative to the Customs.

Part II of the report contains tables and statements relative to the Inland Revenue.

EXPLANATORY NOTES RELATING TO CUSTOMS STATEMENTS

In General Statement No. 15 (Pt. I) of Goods Entered for Home Consumption, the term "Entered for Home Consumption" is the technical term in use at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed in Canada, but that they have passed into the possession of the importer and that duty has been paid on that portion liable for duty.

The value of goods imported is governed by section 40 of the Customs Act, which provides that the value of imported goods subject to ad valorem duty "shall be the fair market value thereof, when sold for home consumption, in the principal markets of the country whence and at the time when the same were exported directly to Canada."

In General Statement No. 17 (Pt. I) of Exports, the term "The Produce of Canada" includes all imported articles which have been changed in form or enhanced in value by further manufacture in Canada, such as sugar refined in Canada from imported raw sugar, flour ground from imported wheat, and articles constructed or manufactured from imported materials. "Goods not the produce of Canada" shows the exports of foreign goods which had been previosuly imported.

Under the regulations commencing July 1, 1900, all Export entries are delivered at the "frontier port of exit," and the totals thereof are credited to the respective ports where the goods pass outwards from Canada. In view of the more complete returns obtained under this system the additions heretofore made to the exports statistics (prior to July 1, 1900) under the head of "short returns" are now omitted.

In this report, the tables of imports and exports at the several ports of entry indicate that merchandise of the value stated was entered inwards or passed outwards at the ports mentioned, but do not imply that the imports were all for consumption at such ports or that the exports originated there.

The value of "Goods the Produce of Canada" is their value at the time of exportation at the ports of Canada whence shipped.

The value of "Goods not the Produce of Canada" is the actual cost of such goods.

The initials n.e.s. mean "not elsewhere specified."

The initials n.o.p mean "not otherwise provided for."

The expression "ton" means two thousand pounds, and "cwt." one hundred pounds.

The figures shown in all statements for the Fiscal Year ended March 31, 1919 and 1920, are exclusive of Coin and Bullion.
